BEACON PROFILES

SUMNER BLOOM

HOME: Formerly Room 117A of CHS but welcome any time he wants to come back

AGE: Older than he looks

PROFESSION: Educator; CHS English Dept. Head, 1971-1974

HOBBIES: Dining at the Hilltop

LAST BOOK READ: The 1974 Beacon

LAST ACCOMPLISHMENT: Appointed Assistant Master - Williams School

QUOTE: "I've lived a life that's full, I've traveled each and every highway. But more, much more than this, I did it my way."

PROFILE: Charismatic, imaginative. Demands perfection. Unintimidated by a challenge. Motivates students and teachers alike. Creative, witty. Involved and interested in the well-being of his students. Possessed with the uncommon knack for being able to make English a colorful and interesting subject. Unselfish. Devoted much time to help the Beacon staffs of 1971-1975. Brilliant, cheerful. Has a unique way with the English language. Made "vapid" and "gourmand" household words. Cigar smoking nonconformist. Innovative, affable. His ear to ear grin makes it difficult for anyone to dislike him. Talented. A man with duende.

Administration

VINCENT B. McGEE
Superintendent

Stepping into the position of superintendent of schools in a totally unfamiliar city is a challenging situation indeed, and one which requires dedication and patience. In his first year as superintendent, Mr. McGee has proven through his innovative ideas that the Chelsea school system has chosen the right man to bring Chelsea to the top in the field of education.

ROBERT V. BARBARISI
Assistant Superintendent

One of our freshman administrators is another of the superintendent's able assistants. He is a sure bet to make a significant contribution to the Chelsea School system.

MARY E. SULLIVAN
Administrative Assistant

An experienced and dedicated administrator, Mrs. Sullivan continues to prove her capabilities assisting Mr. McGee in his first year here.

VINCENT J. FRANCO
Headmaster

Sitting behind the headmaster's desk is a new and refreshing personality, whose past achievements bode well for Chelsea High School. In a brief period of time he has been able to stimulate both students and teachers with his exciting and creative ideas.

JOSEPH J. MORAN
Master

Mr. Moran's personality and ever pleasant smile make him an asset to the school administration. His long years of dedicated service were finally recognized this year when he was promoted to master. We will always remember him as the man who best symbolizes C. H. S. pride and spirit.

FRANCIS X. MAHONEY
Submaster

Through the years Mr. Mahoney has earned the friendship and respect of students and faculty alike. As submaster he has contributed greatly to the success of Chelsea High School's Administration.

Senior Officers

For the first time in CHS history, all girls were elected as officers of the senior class.

President Kathy Burke, Vice President Susan Reczcowski, Secretary Mamie Robinson, and Treasurer Margie O'Malley wasted no time in proving that female officers are just as efficient as male ones. Pres. Burke had a hidden tape recorder installed in her office to record historic conversations for posterity.

Why is the tape recorder hidden? Says Ms. Burke, "The color of the recorder would clash with the decor of my office - and the office of the President must be preserved for future presidents."

Vice Pres. Reczcowski celebrated her victory by playing a game of golf. Unfortunately, 5 people got in the way of Ms. Vice President's golf balls and were slightly injured. She had the golf balls bronzed and sent to the unlucky victims as a token of apology.

Secretary Mamie Robinson released a policy statement of the Burke Administration after elections. To quote Ms. Robinson - "To the best of my recollection, at this point in time any statement is inoperable."

Shortly after election, Treas. O'Malley expressed discontent over the condition of the money in the treasury, saying that the bills were wrinkled and dirty. "From now on," she stated, "all money will be laundered."

The history making Burke Administration served CHS well. Their valuable experience as elected officials has surely been excellent preparation for future political careers.

What Is The Most Serious Problem Chelsea High Faces

Kathy: "The apathy of the students, the lack of facilities, and the course limitations."

Susan: "The tracking system - it's unfair to deny a student a certain subject because of the course they're in."

Mamie: "Making itself a leader among other schools. Chelsea has been looked down on by other schools for a long time. I think we've made a start this year."

Margie: "30¢ lunches!"

STUDENT TRACKS

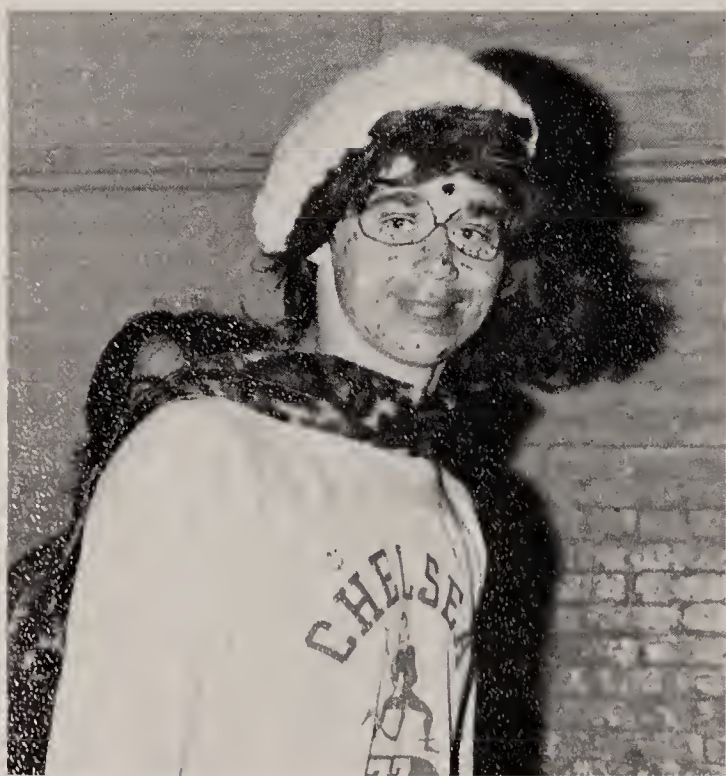

Climb Every Mountain

To the long list of outstanding CHS students add the name of Jimmy McGonigle. The plucky senior recently climbed the formidable face of Powderhorn Hill. McGonigle defied treacherous terrain, sub-zero temperatures, and hurricane force winds in his remarkable trek up the side of the mountain. This photo was taken when he finally reached the top. When asked why men climb mountains, the stoic McGonigle replied, "Because they're there."

Broad — Caster

Women's Lib has finally hit the Chelsea sports scene. Susan Francis, a member of the Class of '75, was signed by the CHS Red Devils to provide the color commentary at Chelsea High football games. Susan, an avid sports fan, reports that she's "just thrilled" with her new assignment. "I can't wait to start!" she exclaimed when she was informed of the news. In the meantime, Ms. Francis can be found at Chelsea Stadium boning up on her field goals and fumbles.

Skin Deep

"My eyes are crossed, my face is lopsided, my nose looks like a banana, and I have a space between my front teeth." This is how Charlie Schell describes the face that will soon earn him a fortune. Schell has just signed a $1 million pact with Revlon Cosmetics to appear in ads for their "Charlie" perfume. A company spokesman says of Schell, "His is the face of the '70's." The soon to be famous Schell disagrees - "Beauty is in the eye of the beholder!"

Here He Is . . .

Charging that the officials of the Miss America beauty contest discriminated against men, Michael McGee of CHS filed a suit against the pageant. The decision that was handed down agreed with McGee's charge and the pageant was ordered to admit male contestants. McGee then entered as the delegate from Massachusetts and to everyone's surprise - he won. When asked if he had received different treatment than the female contestants, McGee replied, "I didn't get the customary winner's kiss from Bert Parks." Mr. America is now charging smiling Bert with discrimination for that slip in form.

The Beat Goes On

Since the divorce of the battling Bonos, America has been searching for another pair of singing sweethearts to take their place. Well, according to Columbia Records, the new Sonny and Cher has been found right here at CHS. Calling themselves "Duvie and Deb", the tuneful twosome has cut their first record, "I Got the Beat and All I Ever Need is You". Last week's Billboard magazine shows that the record is headed straight for the top of the charts. Will success spoil Duvie and Deb? Only time will tell.

Up, Up And Away

Is it a bird? Is it a plane? No - it's CHS senior Nancy Wheeler in her role as Superwoman. Nancy will play the famed superheroine in a soon to be released movie. Ms. Wheeler, an acting newcomer, was spotted at a CHS football game playing the role of the Devil by a Hollywood agent. In preparation for her new role, Nancy was seen leaping out of first floor windows in a single bound.

JOCKS

On Their Toes

Who says that athletes aren't cultured? Certainly not the Chelsea High track team! In an effort to dispel this widespread belief, the boys have taken up ballet. They plan to present a special season's end recital of an original ballet, "High Jump Suite". Here's some photos of the team in rehearsal.

It Came From Outer Space

CHS' Dave Webb believes that there is life on other planets. According to Dave, at a recent track meet, an unidentified flying object landed on the field and an army of little green men trooped out, ready to destroy anything in their path. Spotting the onrushing creatures, the fast thinking Webb grabbed his trusty javelin and charged at the mob of angry martians. Frightened by the size of their opponent, the invaders retreated into their craft and took off for home. Dave expects to be commended soon for his heroic effort - when he finds someone who will believe his story.

One Every Four Hours

In the past, CHS football star Henry "Buster" Annese has been plagued by tension headaches caused by the tightness of his helmet. When the Anacin Company learned of Buster's problem, they set to work and developed a brand of aspirin for a football player's special needs. The pain killers, called "Five-Fours", will be heartily endorsed in TV and magazine ads by number 54 himself. Says Buster, "Those "Five-Fours" really work, man; they cured my one big pain in the head!"

IN TROUBLE

Brooks Breaks Out

Wayne Brooks, is one CHS senior who tried to beat the system. Not willing to accept the 5 hours he had received, Brooks boldly tried to escape the detention room by climbing out the window. He safely made it onto the first floor ledge, but there his futile attempt at freedom came to an end. Wayne unknowingly set off the alarm and he was soon greeted by Mr. Rosa and a pack of attack dogs. For his stab at defying CHS authority, Brooks was put into solitary confinement on a diet of nothing but beefaroni and milk. Is there no justice?

Betcha Can't Eat Just One

CHS' Dorothy Grayson was determined to set a new world record for the number of bag lunches consumed in 24 minutes. Dorothy managed to set a new mark by downing 12 pepper steak sandwiches. However, she soon found the whole thing to be a rather gripping experience.

Photogenic

While enjoying the fresh air and sunshine one lunch period, CHS' John Kierkewicz unknowingly made his movie debut. Just imagine John's surprise when he found out that he was captured on film by Officer O'Reilly's candid camera!

IN THE MONEY

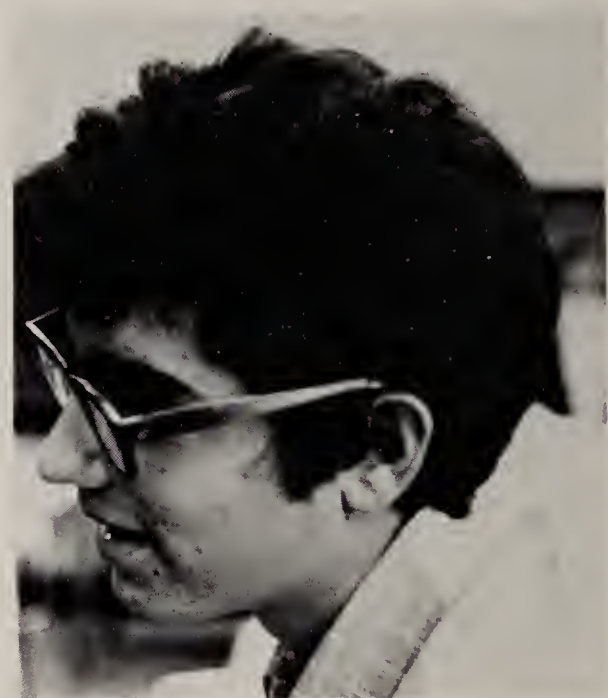

Typecast

George Yee, a CHS senior, has made printing history. He has invented the first typewriter that prints in Chinese. Yee's invention, the result of years of experiment, will make it possible for books to be printed in native Chinese lettering. It will also make George very rich. He's sold his plans to Smith-Corona for the tidy sum of $1 million. What is Yee planning to do with the earnings he'll receive from "the greatest invention since the printing press"? He's using it to further his new research; he's trying to develop a typewriter that prints in hieroglyphics.

Cream Of The Crop

CHS' Richard Chapin made history last week when he invented the first fountain pen that writes under whipped cream. The royalties alone from his invention will bring him over 5 million dollars. Chapin got the idea for his unique invention when he was working as a soda jerk at a local ice cream shop. "It was murder trying to write out the checks - whipped cream got all over everything!", says Richard. "One day I was trying to write a check for a particularly sloppy sundae and POW! I got the idea!" Chapin is currently working on a tasty new project - edible ink in chocolate, strawberry, and butterscotch flavors.

I Could Have Danced All Night

"I just want to sit down!" That was Anita Sheinker's reaction after she and her partner John Kierkewicz won first prize in the CHS Dance Marathon. Anita and John remained in constant motion for 3 days, outlasting the other 100 couples who had entered the contest. They have one problem though - dividing up their prize winnings of $373.55 equally.

Student Government Day was held on February 5, 1975.

Despite a heavy snowstorm, the participants trekked first to the Public Library for an informative lecture and tour given by Head Librarian Nicholas Minadakis. Then the students proceeded to City Hall where they were addressed by Superintendent of Schools Vincent McGee and Mayor Philip Spelman. The Aldermanic Chambers was the scene of the swearing in ceremony of the student officials. After a luncheon at the Elks Club, the students had their chance to run their city for a day.

For the first time in the history of Student Government Day, a female mayor, Robyn Glazer, was elected. Mayor Glazer performed her duties well, proving that the best government officials need not be men.

The other elected officials were: School Committee - Chairman Ken Botticelli, Francesca Taverna, Robert Spinney, David Webb, Susan Francis, Joan Agri, and Mary Ellyn May. Board of Aldermen - Chairman Mamie Robinson, Debra Bernard, Thomas Duval, Kevin Veator, Susan Reczkowski, Janis Altavilla, Elaine Carr, Diana Citro, and Paula Matrinko.

Thanks to the hard work of its coordinator Mr. Max Leader, Student Government Day was an enlightening and rewarding experience for all involved.

Chelsea Wins The Big One

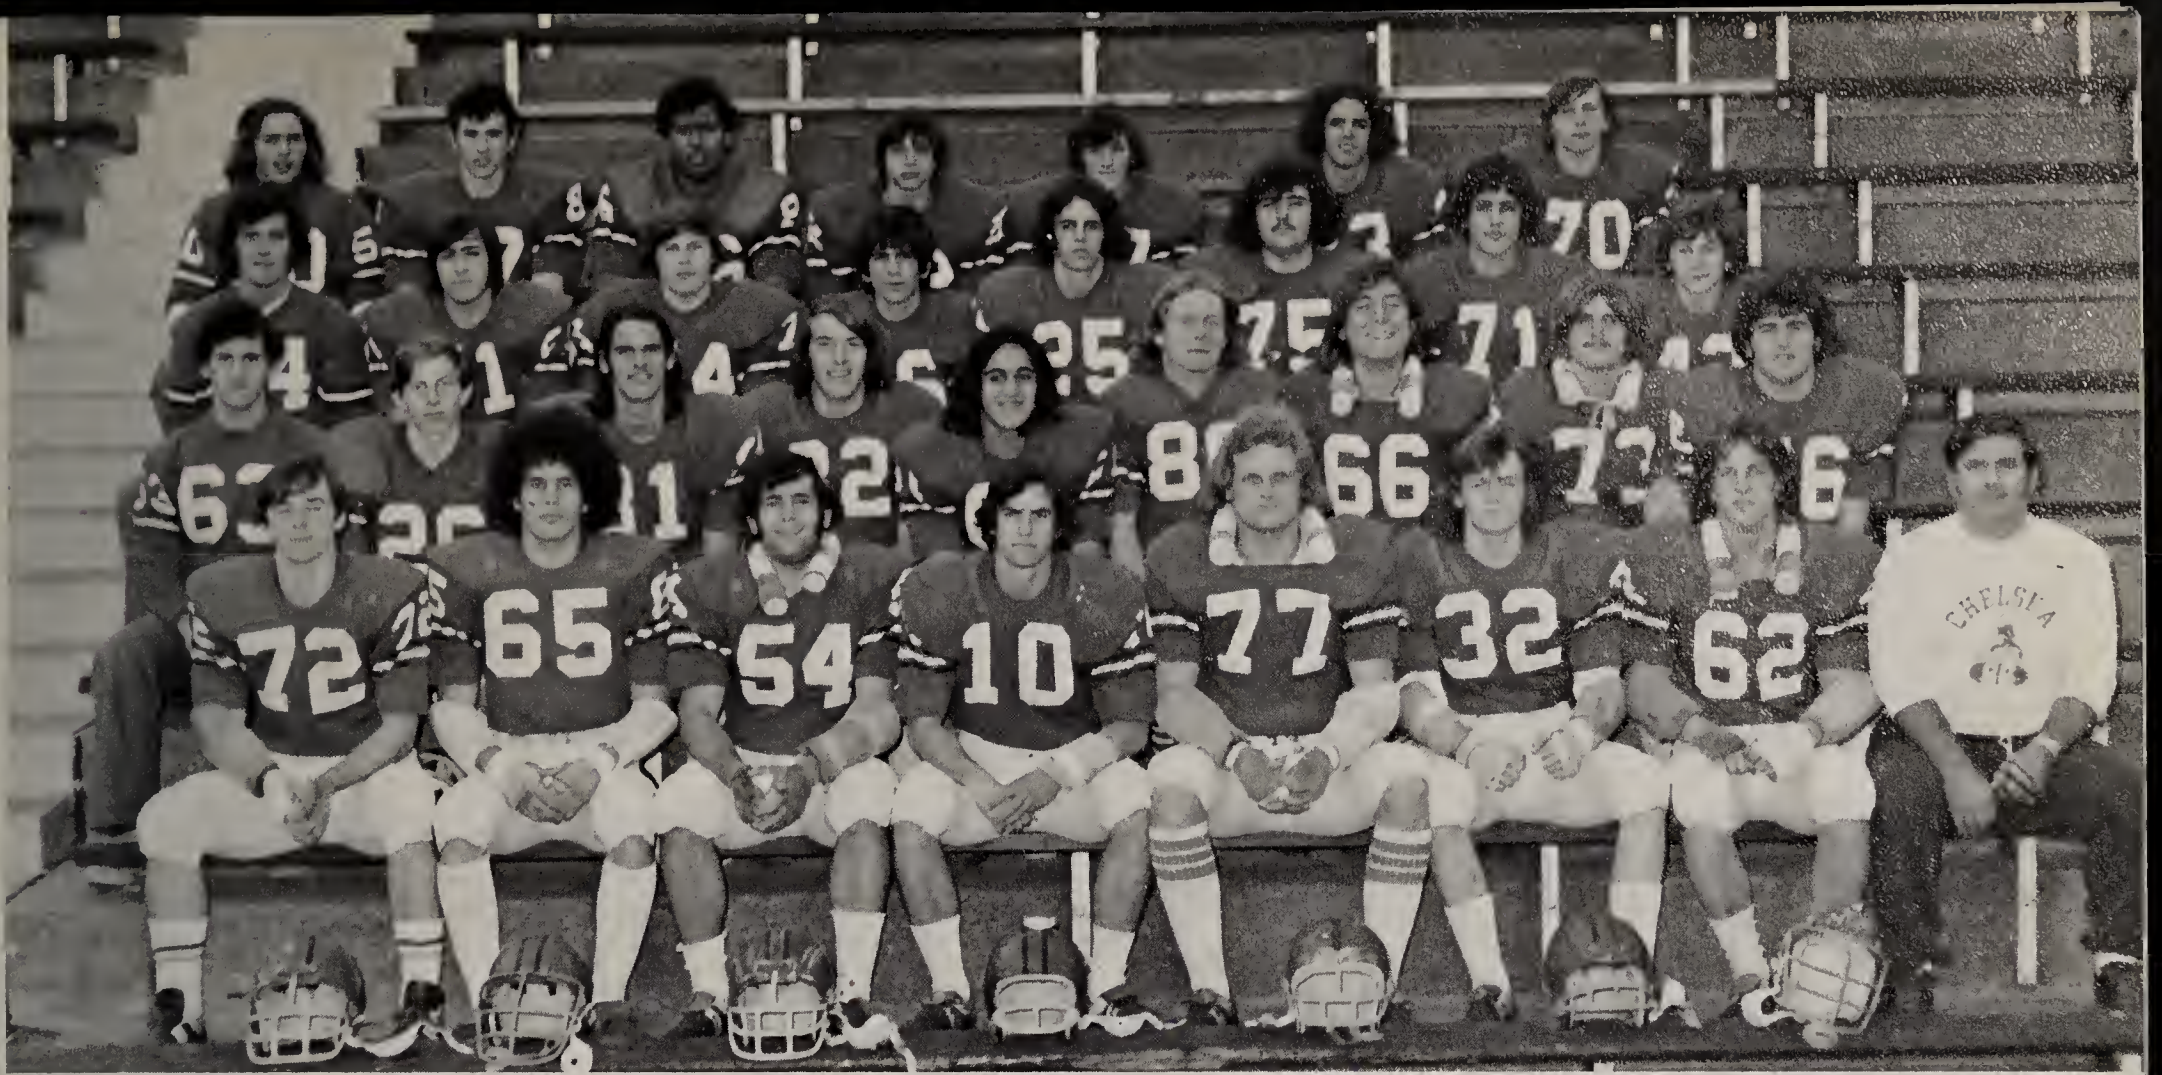

What makes for a successful season? The simple answer is beating arch rival Everett High. And that's what our boys did, after 8 years of frustrations, by a score of 28-20. The final score doesn't tell the story, though. Chelsea out played, out hustled, and out classed the Crimson Tide, and at no time was a victory in doubt. Although it was only Chelsea's 9th victory in the long series, it was one of the sweetest.

The seniors on the team gave their all to make the last game a memorable one. Co-Captains Dave Webb & Bob Spinney, Turk Szarythe, Tom Duval, Ted DeAngelis, Mark Williams, Tom Moore, Jack Madden, Buster Annese, Mike Knapp, Charlie Schell, and Steve Benton were standouts, not just in the big one, but throughout the whole season.

In addition to THE GAME victory, the Devils also defeated East Boston, Northeast Regional, Pope John, and Rindge Tech, ending with a final record of 5-5. Prospects for next year look great!

Outdoor

Track

Track and field, once a much neglected sport, really came into the spotlight this year at Chelsea High. One of the main reasons was the hard working Red Devil outdoor track team.

Attracting a loyal band of buffs at each meet, the scrapping Devils fought hard against tough opposition. Under Coach Bavaro's guidance, the boys improved with every meet and always displayed a determination to make C.H.S. a winner.

The senior members of the team performed well. Hurdler Richard "Turk" Szarythe, shotputters Charlie Schell and Henry "Buster" Annese; javelin throwers Dave Webb and Tom Moore; and long jumper Paul Malachowski turned in top performances at each meet. Distance runners Ed McFayden and Ken Botticelli, and sprinters Webb and Malachowski consistently ran hard, never giving the competition the edge.

All in all, the outdoor track team improved greatly this past season, and although their records may not show it, a hardy band of the Red and Black overall had a successful and satisfying year.

Hockey

This year's Chelsea High hockey team once again proved that as far as hustle is concerned, they're number one.

Drawing enthusiastic crowds at every game, the Big Red Hockey Machine put up a tough fight against each opponent.

Led by Captain Paul Arsenault, Co-Captains Marty Botticelli, Bill MacKay, and Wayne Ryan, and seniors Ed McFayden, Phil Bolton, Jim Vahey, and John Marino, the Devils provided much excitement through the long winter.

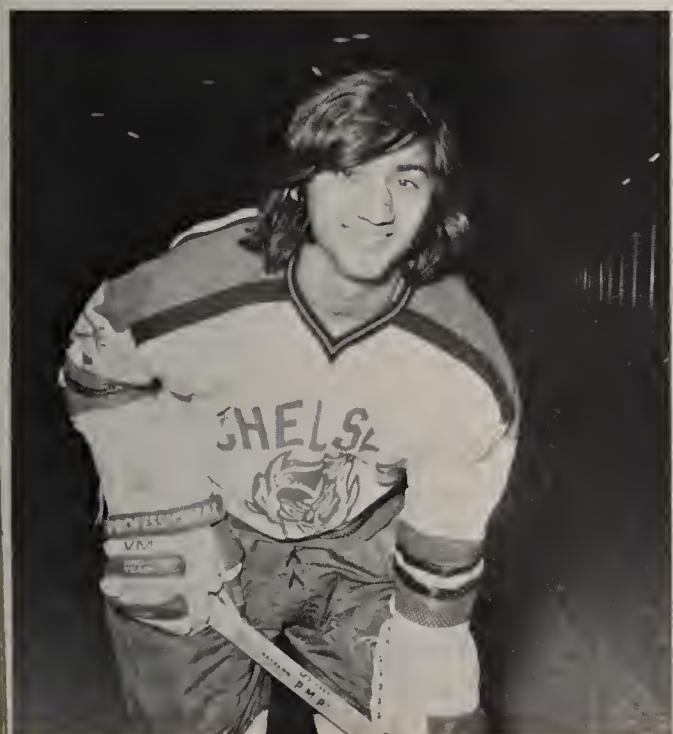

G.B.L. rivals - watch out; Big Red is on its way!

Basketball

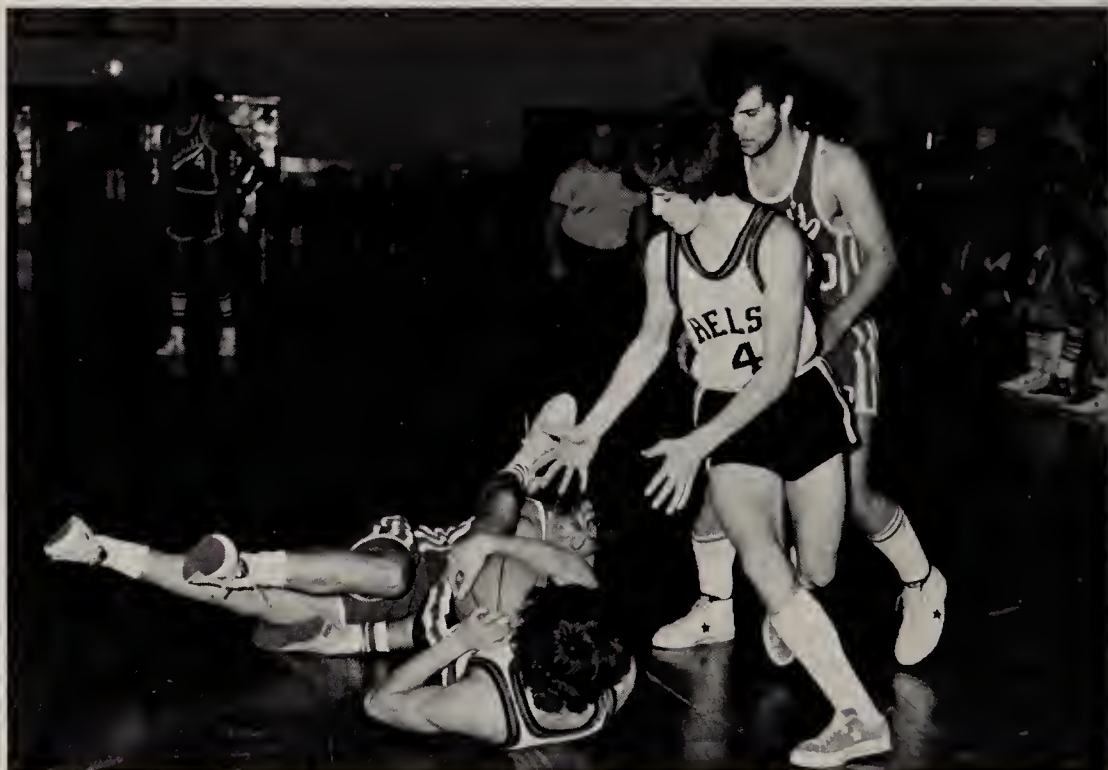

No matter what the scoreboard said, in the eyes of their fans, the CHS basketball team was always a winner.

Coach Niven taught his team how to take pride in themselves and Chelsea High. Co-Captains Paul Finklestein and Mike Wozniak kept up the spirit of the team. Seniors Dino Delyani, George Freese, and Mike McGee personified the saying, "It's not whether you win or lose, it's how you play the game."

With the Devils' drive and Chelsea Pride, next year we may see a winner.

Girls' Basketball

Girls' basketball has finally made its mark at Chelsea High. Under the coaching of Ms. Constance Pike, the team combined skill with determination resulting in a greatly improved record. Led by Captain Debbie Murphy and outstanding seniors Anne Roche, Anita Sheinker, and Lauren Wing, this group of hard working athletes is a credit to CHS. Who knows? We may someday see their names in the lineup of a discrimination-free Boston Celtics. The Globe headline might read - "Ms. Murphy, Ms. Roche, Ms. Sheinker, and Ms. Wing Lead Big Green to Victory".

Cross Country

The Red Devil Harriers won the 1974 G.B.L. Cross Country Championship, bringing CHS its first varsity title in 15 years.

Under the leadership of hard working Co-Captains Ken Botticelli, Ed McFayden, and Dino Delyani, the Harriers produced their best record ever, 13 wins and 0 losses.

The big story of the year was freshman super runner, all-star Bobby Goss. Goss was the G.B.L.'s undefeated runner and broke the league record for the fastest time. But he couldn't have done it alone; seniors Doug DeSimone, Joe Esseichick, Kevin Veator, and first year runner Jim McGonigle contributed in an outstanding fashion. Also helping Chelsea to its undefeated season were all-stars junior Jack Richard and sophomores Ed Richard and Tony Rosati.

Backed by all of Chelsea High, Coach Dwyer's boys proved that with a little school spirit and a lot of hard work and dedication, any odds can be overcome.

Track Action

This year's indoor track team personified effort and determination. Coached by Walter Bavaro and led by Co-Captains Kevin Veator, Turk Szarythe, and Tom Duval, the Devils competed hard and valiantly in their many hotly contested meets.

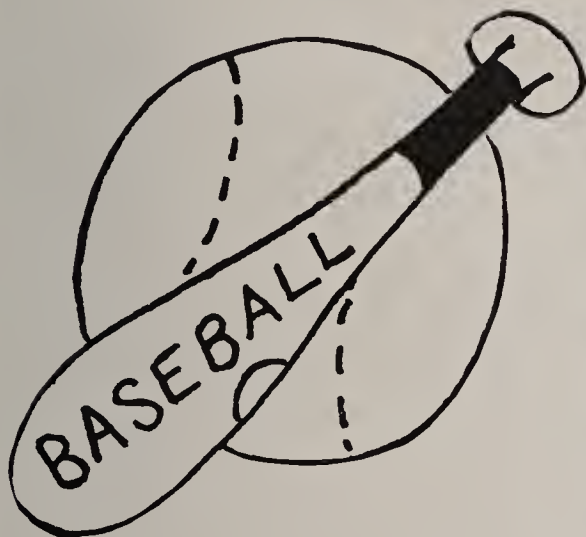

Contributing points were seniors Jim McGonigle, Bob Spinney, Paul Malachowski, Ted DeAngelis, Ken Botticelli, Henry Annese, and Dave Webb.

Their overall record doesn't really tell the story. The Devils were tough competition on any track and with the excellent underclassmen on the team, should remain so for many years to come.

L. TO R. - Head Coach Bevere, Co-Captains Kevin Veator and Bob Spinney, Asst. Coach Herlihy.

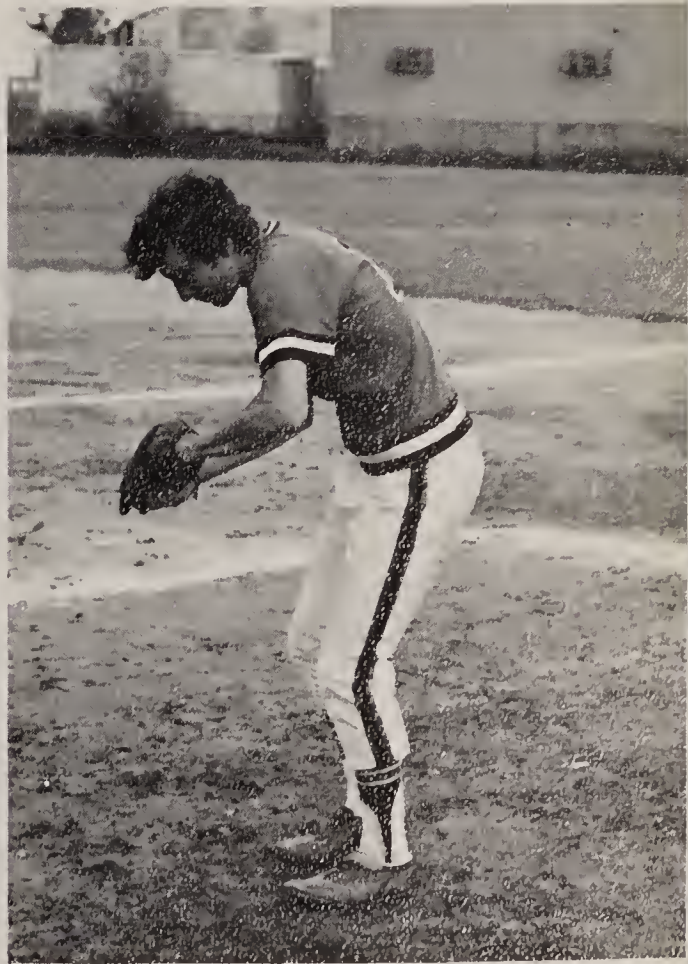

Baseball is the All-American sport and no team typified this better than the Chelsea High Red Devils.

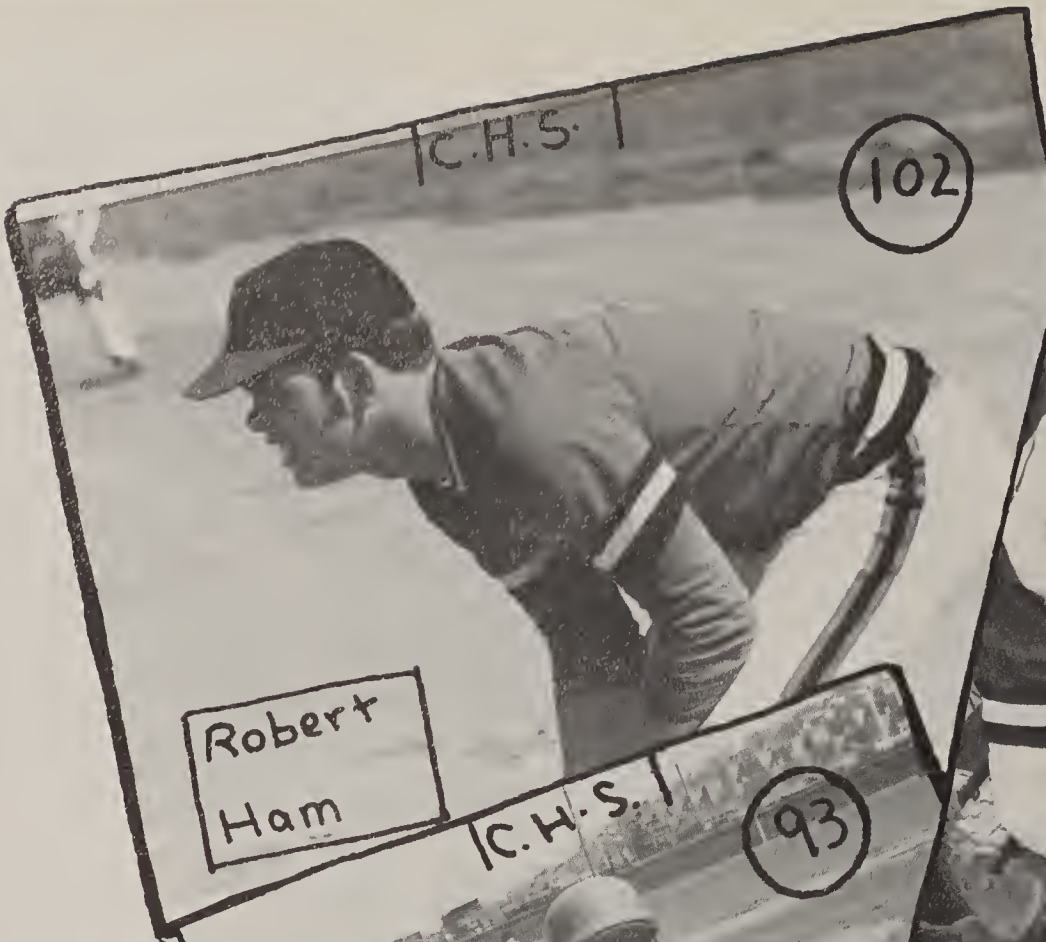

Led by team captains Kevin Veator, one of the best shortstops in the G.B.L., and south-paw pitcher Bob Spinney, the Devils combined sportsmanship with intelligence and spunk as they played their hearts out in each effort. Hard working seniors Bobby Ham, Tom Duval, Dino Delyani, and Steve Antinick gave their all for CHS and set a fine example of team spirit for the underclassmen on the squad.

Although the team's overall record was somewhat disappointing, veteran coaches Bevere and Herlihy had many satisfying moments watching their charges put out 100%.

Most important, the Devils succeeded in proving that they are a team to be taken seriously in this year's quest for the pennant.

Max — Ed

A refreshing innovation at CHS this year is the Max - Ed Omnibus Program.

Omnibus brings movies, demonstrations, concerts and other treats to students during study periods. Some of the programs enjoyed this year were a concert by a jazz ensemble, a demonstration by the K - 9 force of the Boston Police Dept., a film of the Chelsea fire, and showings of the movies "House of Wax", "Cat Ballou", and "Jason and the Argonauts".

Omnibus is greatly appreciated in that it breaks up the boredom of a student's long day. Hopefully, it will be around for a long time.

F.F.A.

In keeping with the current back-to-nature trend, this hardy group of future farmers packed up their rakes and hoes and went off on a visit to Old MacDonald's farm. The diligent group worked hard from sun-up till sundown chopping trees, raking the potato patch, and feeding the chickens. Their chores were made much easier, however, after one lucky farmer found Old MacDonald's secret still, which was hidden in a dark corner of the pigeon coop. The farmers stopped working and paused for liquid refreshment. The day ended on an unfortunate note, though, when a pigeon who had been roosting too close to the still crashed into the coop in an unsuccessful flight attempt. The walls promptly collapsed and buried the still. With a hiccup here and a hiccup there, our farmers staggered home, tired but nonetheless very happy.

Greaser Club

Where were you in '52? Well, man, if you were hip to the jive you were boppin' round the jukebox with your steady and sippin' sodas at the local malt shop. When Saturday night rolled around you greased back your D. A., shined your saddle shoes and went to the sock hop. Those were the days when you traded your new tube of red lipstick for Elvis' latest record, and being one of the guys meant rolling up your cigs in your T-shirt sleeve and racing your Chevy down the main drag. Take it from this keen group of cool cats and cute kitties - ROCK AND ROLL IS HERE TO STAY! Ya know what I mean, jelly bean?

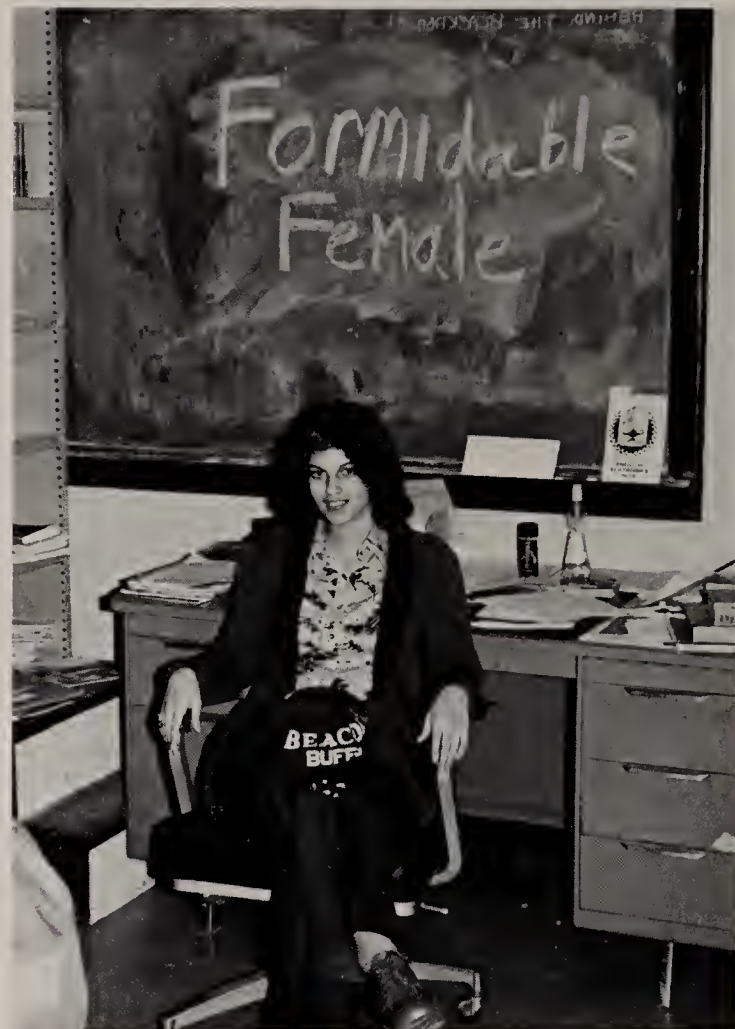

Beacon

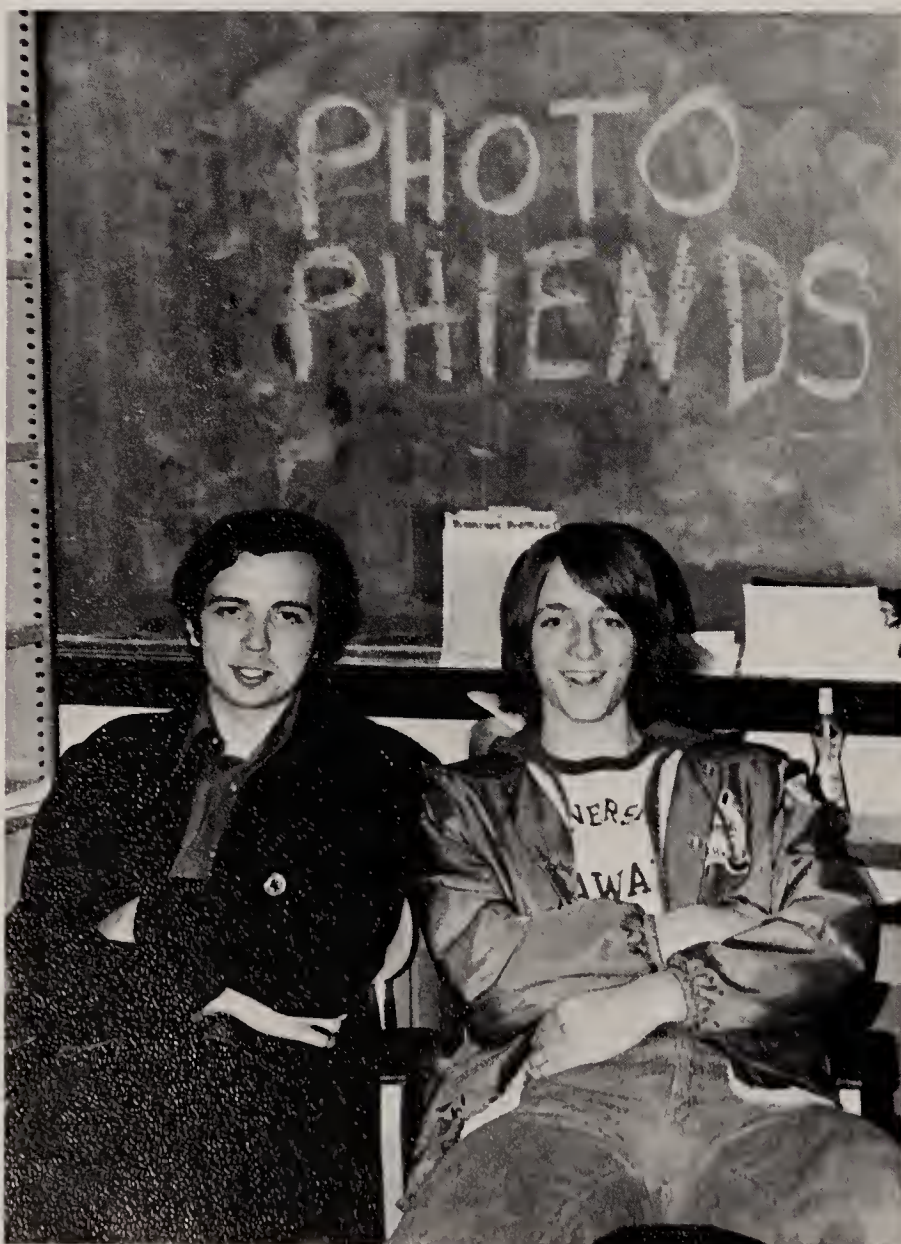

Working on the Beacon is a fulfilling experience. You learn the art of self-denial and to go without the little things, like food and sleep, to meet the "Holy Deadline". One must abstain from socializing on week-ends to lay out pictures of classmates who are out having a night on the town. And to truly consider oneself a student of wise Maharaja Sumner, you must devote yourself totally to the search for the Golden Cropper, the symbol of perfect inner peace.

This year's staff was selected after they passed Maharaja's endurance test. They were called upon to count the number of picas on a 3-R form while singing "You're Next" in Swahili. Our editor, Joyce Millman, was chosen after she passed the supreme test; she endured Maharaja's cigar smoke and wise aphorisms for an unprecedented year and a half. If her eyes seem glazed it is because she has found Nirvana (or lost her mind).

However, this year's staff has displayed true faith in the Book of Josten. Rejoice, O Beacon Buffs; paradise-the Kingdom of the Hilltop-awaits you!

The Making Of The Beacon . . .

Last year a meeting was held for anyone who wanted to join the 1975 Beacon staff.

When all else failed, Mr. Bloom recruited his own staff.

Everyone was pleased with Mr. B's choice of an editor.

One thing that holds a yearbook together is a warm relationship among staff members.

... In Eight Easy Steps

The Layout Staff really knew their stuff.

Our talented artist had many original ideas.

The Writing Staff displayed genuine creativity.

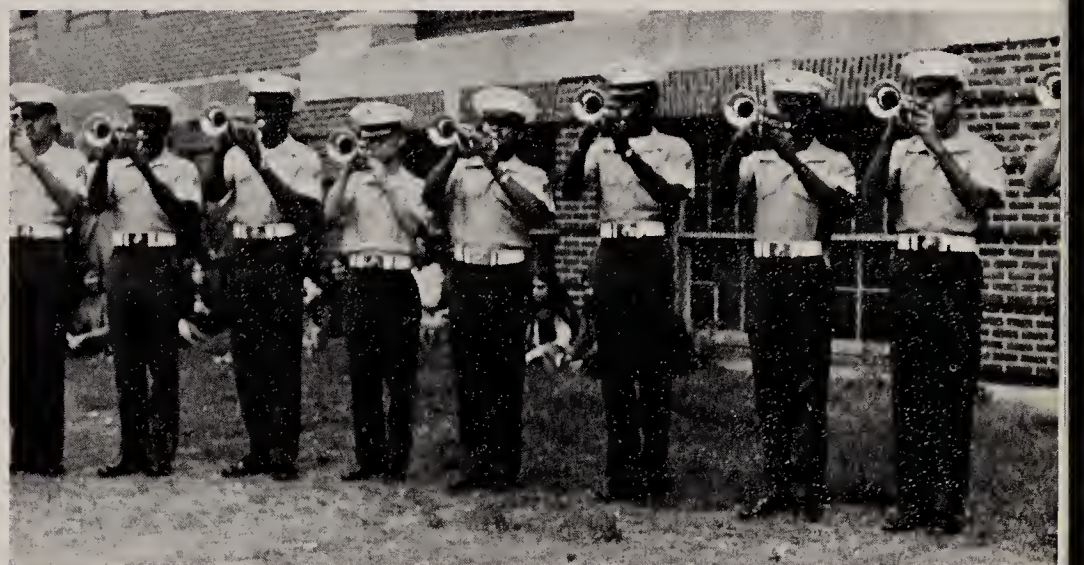

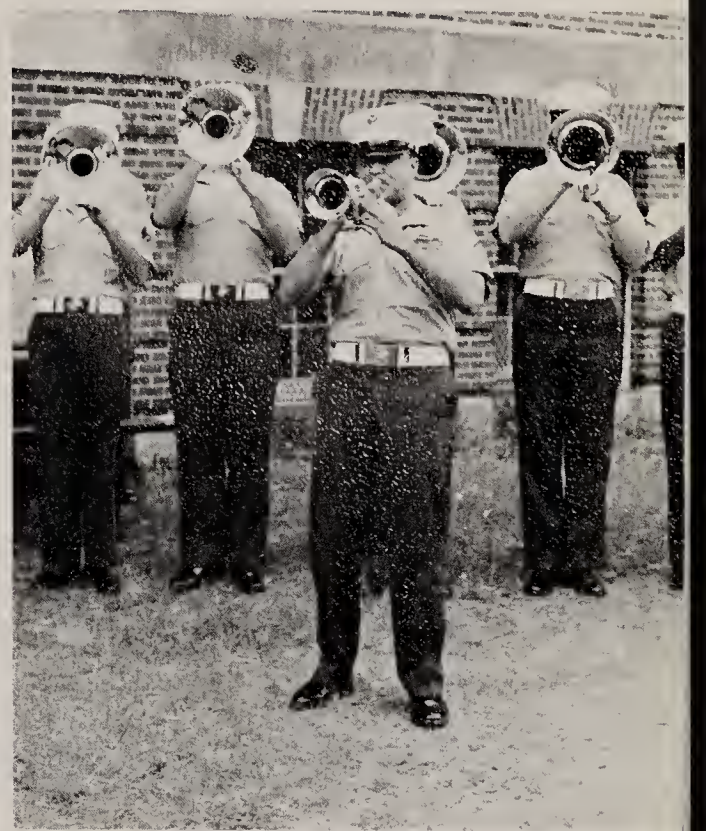

When the Beacon was finished, the staff was as bright and bouncy as they were at the beginning of the year.

Dear Beaconetta

Dear Beaconetta,

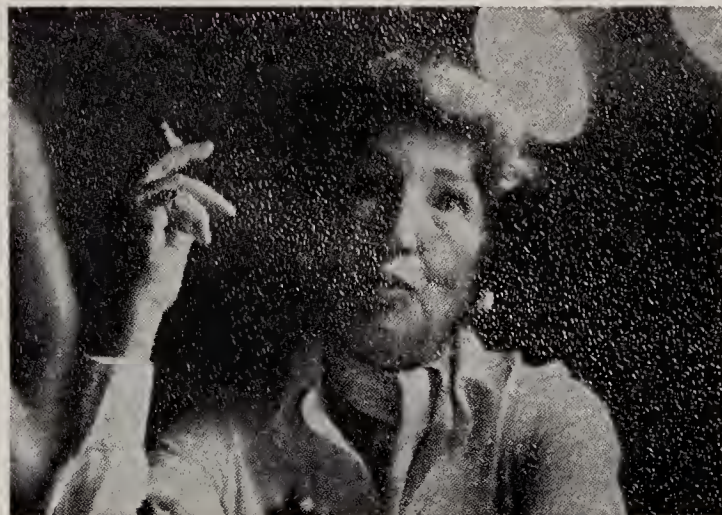

I have an embarrassing problem. I am a high school senior and I have been asked to the prom by a dreamy guy who I've had my eye on for a long time. He's very high class and has perfect manners. What if I make a slip in etiquette? It could mean our relationship! What am I to do?

Signed,
Laurel from Topeka

Dear Beaconetta,

I am a male high school senior. I have a prom coming up soon and I need some advice. I don't know much about the social graces. What are some blunders I shouldn't make?

Signed,
Hardly Casanova

Dear Laurel and Hardly,

The following are tips for a successful prom night. Stay in step with my advice and you'll be dancing in air.

Beaconetta

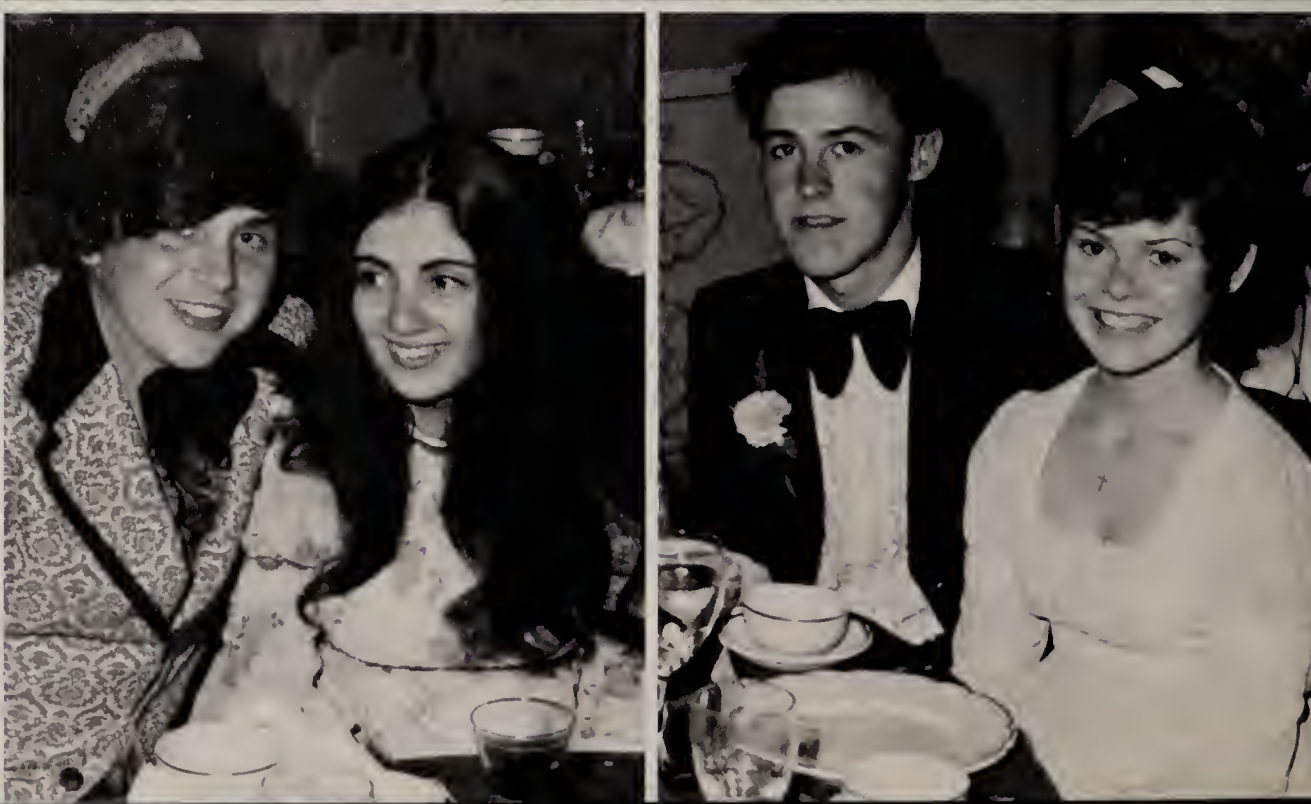

Girls

1. DO NOT take your corsage off and place it in your water glass. It will stay fresh all night anyway!
2. If your date is 4'11", DO NOT wear 6 inch platform shoes - the Sonny and Cher look is OUT!
3. DO NOT become the life of the party and belly dance on top of a table. A prom is something people will remember all their lives.
4. NEVER wear a brunette hairpiece if you are a blonde. Tacky, tacky!
5. DON'T offer to go dutch - he may agree.
6. DO NOT insist that you sit with your friends and he sit with his!
7. DO NOT have bumper stickers made up urging people to vote for you for Prom Queen - that's not how she's chosen!
8. DO NOT fish through other people's fruit cups - even if you didn't get a cherry.
9. DO NOT wrap the tablecloth around yourself if you see a girl with the same dress as yours. This will only attract more attention.
10. DO NOT ask the waitress for a doggie bag. If mom and dad want to sample the food they'll just have to go there themselves!

Boys

1. NEVER, NEVER thumb to the prom! Try your best to find someone with extra room in their car.
2. DO NOT cross your suspenders in the front - ask Dad how to do it.
3. REMEMBER - the floating candle is NOT a punch bowl!
4. DO NOT pick up your date in a Winnebago!
5. Take your date someplace classy after the prom. McDonald's is fine for just everyday, but...
6. DO NOT play cards at the table, even if you ARE on a streak.
7. DO NOT wear your letter jacket as an overcoat - try for something a bit more dressy.
8. DO NOT ask the band to play "Smoke on the Water" - most prom bands just aren't equipped for it.
9. DO NOT - REPEAT - DO NOT give your date a homemade corsage, even if you DO like dandelions!
10. DO NOT glue your boutonniere to your jacket - there is a hole for it!

With Gratitude

Just as we welcomed the new school administrators, we bid a fond farewell to two of our most dedicated educators.

Former headmaster Nathan Margolis retired this past year after serving Chelsea High for seven years. He has left his mark on Chelsea High in the form of genuine accomplishment and advancement. We thank him for his dedication and concern for his students.

Junior Master Vincent Apruzzese also left Chelsea High this past year in order to return to teaching. His patience, understanding, and no non-sense attitude helped him develop a warm rapport with both students and teachers. Although his presence is sorely missed, we wish him the best of luck in his future endeavors.

*You who are on the road
Must have a code that you can live by
And so become yourself
Because the past is just a goodbye.
Teach your children well
Their father's hell
Will slowly go by
And feed them on your dreams
The ones they pick
The ones you'll know by.
Don't you ever ask them why
If they told you, you would cry
So just look at them and sigh
And know they love you.*
